

Creative Clips Terms of Use

Thank you so much for your support and interest in Creative Clips Digital Clipart. Creating graphics is truly my passion and I am so thankful that my graphics can help you create your own visions! Please read the following Terms of Use carefully.

All Creative Clips Clipart graphics are creative property of Krista Wallden and cannot be resold or distributed. Creative Clips Clipart cannot be used to create new clipart, borders, frames, digital papers, fonts or graphics of any kind. Creative Clips Clipart cannot be used in promotional marketing, graphic products, logos, etc. of other clipart artists' brands. *Sellers who create their own clipart AND sell lesson materials MAY use Creative Clips Clipart in their regular educational resources. Creative Clips Clipart is available for personal and commercial use in digital products according to the following Terms of Use:

Educational Personal/Commercial Use: Creative Clips Graphics may be used to create educational resources to be sold on websites such as Teachers Pay Teachers, Teacher's Notebook, etc. or offered as free educational resources on similar websites or blogs. All images must be incorporated into a new, original resource and cannot be sold as printable graphics alone. Images must be secured as a JPEG or PDF file to protect my designs and your investment in my artwork. Resources must have a clear educational purpose where my graphics complement your own creation, rather than being the main component for your product. I have created the table below for reference, however, if you have additional questions about acceptable educational use, please contact me: thecreativechalkboard@gmail.com All freebies and products that incorporate my clipart must provide credit to Creative Clips Clipart by Krista Wallden, a link to my TpT store: <http://www.teacherspayteachers.com/Store/Krista-Wallden> and my Logo/Button.

Acceptable Use	Not Allowed **
Printable educational worksheets, center activities, progress monitoring forms, specific classroom certificates. Student writing papers may be created if it is incorporated into a specific lesson or larger product.	Printable stationery that is not part of a lesson or specific activity, plain graphics or bulletin board elements.
Color-by-number or code are allowed. There must be a clear educational component added on top of the images so it is not an isolated graphic.	Coloring books, pages or printables of isolated graphics are not permitted of any kind.
TpT Store Logo/Banner (As long as you are not creating and promoting clipart of your own, you may use my clipart in these marketing pieces without giving credit. However, please give a shout out or credit on your blog, if possible ☺.)	Printable graphic puppets, gift tags, teacher postcards and other products where graphics are the primary component.
Facebook Cover Banner (As long as you are not creating and promoting clipart of your own, you may use my clipart in these marketing pieces without giving credit. However, please give a shout out or credit on your page, if possible ☺.)	Printable graphic design products such as pencil toppers, stickers or other materials without educational content added.
Graphics may be used in linky party buttons and associated marketing without credit as long as you are not creating and promoting clipart of your own.	Printable notepads, planners, and other graphic design products.

** You may create and use my clipart for ANYTHING listed above WITHIN YOUR OWN CLASSROOM OR HOME. However, you cannot distribute or share the items in the right column with others as products or freebies.

Blog Use: Creative Clips Clipart may be used in your own personal blog design, but may not be used for commercial blog design services. Basically, if you create your own blog design, you may incorporate my clipart, however if you sell or create blog designs for others, you MAY NOT use my clipart. When my clipart is used on your blog, you must include credit to Creative Clips Clipart by Krista Wallden with a link to my TpT store: <http://www.teacherspayteachers.com/Store/Krista-Wallden> on the homepage of your blog. Including my button in your sidebar is also appreciated but not required.

Creative Clips Clipart CANNOT be used to create graphic design products which includes, but is not limited to, t-shirts, stationery, Zazzle products, Vistaprint products, printable decorations, stickers, stamps, etc. unless being used for personal use and is not distributed to others on a public platform.

Please feel free to email me with any additional questions regarding appropriate use! Thank you for helping me protect my work and be able to offer teachers affordable graphics by following these guidelines! - Krista Wallden, Creative Clips Digital Clipart
